

Professor Leon Knopoff

60 years of guiding students and their doctoral research

STUDENT	PhD Year	Department
1. Don A. Hansen	1953	Physics
2. Glenn L. Brown	1956	Physics
3. Robert W. Fredricks	1959	Physics
4. Joseph F. Hook	1959	Physics
5. Anthony F. Gangi	1960	Physics
6. Walter L. Pilant	1960	Physics
7. Lawrence D. Porter	1961	Physics
8. Edgar A. Kraut	1962	Physics
9. William H. Ruehle	1963	Physics
10. Michael J. Randall	1968	Earth & Space Sciences
11. James N. Shapiro	1970	Physics
12. H. Douglas Garbin	1970	Physics
13. Edo Nyland	1970	Earth & Space Sciences
14. Nirendra N. Biswas	1971	Earth & Space Sciences
15. Richard C. Smith	1972	Physics
16. Julio A. Landoni	1972	Physics
17. Ahmed A. Fouda	1973	Earth & Space Sciences
18. Alan R. Leeds	1973	Earth & Space Sciences
19. Marek Bukowinski	1975	Physics
20. John W. Schlue	1975	Earth & Space Sciences
21. Thomas G. Hill	1976	Physics
22. Robert G. Mitchel	1977	Earth & Space Sciences
23. Keith K. Nakanishi	1978	Earth & Space Sciences
24. Fong-S. Chang	1979	Earth & Space Sciences
25. Amy H. Liao	1981	Earth & Space Sciences
26. Paul A. Rydelek	1983	Earth & Space Sciences
27. David Scholler	1984	Physics
28. Elias Barbini	1988	Physics
29. Daniel Rosenblatt	1989	Earth & Space Sciences
30. Narbik Manukian	1990	Physics
31. Ke-shan Zou	1990	Earth & Space Sciences
32. Per M. Jögi	1995	Physics
33. Mark S. Abinante	1996	Physics
34. Matthew W. Lee	1998	Physics
35. Xiao-xi Ni	1998	Earth & Space Sciences
36. Jean E. Elkhoury	2008	Earth & Space Sciences

Students who did their research with Professor Knopoff and received the PhD from the institutions indicated:

1. A.T. de Hoop, PhD (Delft Technical University)
Emeritus Professor, Delft Technical University
2. Edgar Kausel, PhD (Columbia University)
University of Chile, Santiago
3. Stefan Nielsen, PhD (University of Paris)
University of Naples, Italy

All of the aforementioned students acknowledge their deep debt to Professor Knopoff for his guidance and support during the difficult years of graduate study...teaching eager students the joys of science.
